

JORDAN GREEN

Jordan is an imaginative business and technical professional grounded in science, technology, management and marketing.

Jordan is co-founder and Deputy Chairman of the Australian Association of Angel Investors; he founded and leads an Angel investor group, Melbourne Angels, and was a founding partner and Managing Director of Melbourne Venture Partners, one of the best performing venture capital fund managers in Australia. In the last fifteen years Jordan has been active as an angel and venture investor on three continents and continues to pursue his interests in Australia and overseas as board member and board adviser to a number of private and unlisted public companies.

First qualified as an Electronics Engineer, Jordan has an MBA (MBS '97) and a number of postgraduate qualifications in marketing, product development and managing innovation. Jordan has over twenty seven years first-hand experience in the strategic and tactical applications of engineering, manufacturing, computing and information technologies to business and industry in Australia, USA, Asia and Europe. He has been director, CEO, executive, or engineer for over a dozen technology and engineering companies since starting his career with IBM, including a Silicon Valley software company, Australia's largest Internet registrar and an Internet Business Incubator. He has led international technology and business projects up to $500,000,000 in value. Jordan is active in community work, an occasional guest lecturer at the Melbourne Business School, a judge in the Melbourne University Entrepreneurs' Challenge, a judge in the QUT John Heine Challenge and has been an invited lecturer at Universities in Asia, Europe and North America.