

Karen Jenkin

Karen Jenkin is co-founder, Director and COO of Six Figures, the Executive Jobs, News and Services site for executives and senior professionals.

Karen has over 15 years experience working in the mobile and web applications field with companies such as Ericsson and Telstra, specifically involving mobile applications software and systems, web development, speech processing and AI software.

In more recent years, Karen's skills, focus and passion has extended to entrepreneurship and continuing to work on breakthrough innovations, including founding an IT security and support business for the small business market in 2003 and co-founding Six Figures – the Executive Jobs, News and Services site in 2007 that launched nationally in March 2008. Coupled with her proven experience in introducing and developing innovative, new mobile/online services, Karen brings strong business acumen and financial skills to new ventures. She is also interested and actively involved in Boards and corporate governance.

Karen is currently a Director on the Board of Six Figures as well as Chief Operating Officer. She holds a Bachelor of Engineering (Honours) and Bachelor of Science from the University of Melbourne (1993), a Master of Engineering Science (University of Melbourne, 1996), and a Master of Entrepreneurship and Innovation (Australian Graduate School of Entrepreneurship - Swinburne University, 2002). Additionally, Karen is on the Victorian State Council for Save the Children Australia and is a member of the Australian Institute of Company Directors.
